

MORRIS FOR MAYOR

Do you believe that Metro Vancouver should have the power to dictate to each community the rate and magnitude of growth?

I don't. I think the needs of our community should take precedence over the dictates handed down by an un-elected board at Metro!

Over the past 9 years we have gone from a liveable community where bus service met our needs, traffic was manageable, and housing was more affordable, to a community where the pace and scale of construction is out of control, traffic is a nightmare, and you need to be able to service a half million dollar mortgage to live in a pigeon-coop.

The argument now is that we must grow even further, worsening the quality of our lives, to stimulate funding which will return us to a lower quality of life than we enjoy today.
