On April 4th, 2016, the City of North Vancouver approved a property tax increase.

" ...the property tax increase calculated under Option 1 (attachment 1) is estimated at 10.9% for the average single dwelling unit."

Affordable housing in the City of North Vancouver is quickly becoming a thing of the past as today's City council approves tax increase after tax increase.

We need a return to the days when our City council considered taxpayer's income limits, remembering that endless spending is driving us from our own homes and community.
